

Life in Soul Town...

Angie Greaves, 'Daytime' and 'Soul Town' presenter on Magic, has one of the most soulful and distinctive female voices in UK radio today. Born in London and enjoying being 'fabulous in her 50's', Angie grew up within a traditional Afro-Caribbean family setting. Even from a young age, she loved her soulful roots and she knew she had a 'voice' in the world - one that needed to be shared. And one that she continues to share today.

Angie's media career started off in 1982 at BBC Television Centre and by 1986 she moved to London's Capital Radio where she was discovered by DJ, David 'Kid' Jensen.

In 1990, Angie was announced as the first DJ at the launch of Spectrum Radio and by 1992, joined Choice FM for five soulful years, where listener figures trebled on her Angie Greaves Breakfast Show. After this time, Angie joined The BBC, where she presented shows on BBC London, BBC Three Counties Radio and the Drive Time show on BBC 2002 in Manchester. The latter was an RSL station launched to air coverage on Wimbledon, The World Cup and The Commonwealth Games.

Whilst bringing up a young family, Angie freelanced across Jazz/Smooth FM, Radio Jackie and LBC 97.3FM until 2006. Angie started working with Magic in late 2006 and was the first woman to join the Magic presenter line-up. In addition to her extensive and prolific radio career, Angie has created her own Angie Greaves multi-platform brand including a well-established book club.

You can hear Angie Greaves every weekday on Afternoons with Angie from 2pm to 5pm on Magic Radio and daily on Magic Soul.

Voiceover work includes the MOBO awards, numerous terrestrial and satellite television documentaries for BBC1, BBC2, ITV and Channel 4 and television commercials endorsing such products as Sunny Delight and Snack-A-Jacks. Animation is also amongst Angie's accolades and she was the voice of a Jim Henson Character 'Maxine' for ITV's Children's Show Construction Site.

As a special soothing treat, if you travel long-haul on a British Airways flight, you can listen to Angie's two-hour 'Soul Selection' on British Airways Radio.

Angie has interviewed some of the world's best-known musical artists and is proud to call some of them personal friends. Her recent event called 'The Essence of Crop Over' and official visit to Crop Over in Barbados, with BTMI, has further extended Angie's reach and appeal into the international travel sector.

This August 2016, Angie was proud to have been asked to stand in for Clare Balding on BBC Radio 2's 'Good Morning Sunday' during The Olympic Games Rio 2016.

Angie is passionate about not only being recognised for her voice but also as a lauded British female spokesperson. She fully encompasses the archetypal, positive role model for 50+ women throughout the UK and farther afield. Angie supports other people's dreams and aspirations and is a very proud mother of two teenage daughters. She is truly a woman with a big heart who continues to forge ahead in her very own 'soul town'.

-ends-

You can hear Angie Greaves every weekday on Afternoons with Angie from 2pm to 5pm on Magic Radio and daily on Magic Soul.

CONTACT INFORMATION

PERSONAL ASSISTANT - For general information, appointments or scheduling, please contact Abi Baum via email pa@angiegreaves.com

AGENCY - 6th Vision - For queries about Angie Greaves' availability, radio work, voiceover work, interviews, events and television appearances please contact Nigel Forsyth at 6th Vision on 0207 221 4592 or email nigel@6thvision.com.

PR - Miranda Leslau - For media interviews, photography and more information, please contact Miranda Leslau on 07912 644993 or email miranda@mirandaleslau.com

ONLINE - Feeling Fab Productions Ltd - For online advertising, contributions and social media please contact Ayshea Hay on 07940 300703 or email editor@angiegreaves.com

You can hear Angie Greaves every weekday on Afternoons with Angie from 2pm to 5pm on Magic Radio and daily on Magic Soul.